Folks who like a variety in their weather certainly got it Saturday. The morning started out nice and springlike, with a warm sun beaming down. Towards noon it started to rain, and there was a little hail mixed with it. Then the wind blew in typical March fashion, reaching the velocity of a gale, followed by a drop in temperature, and snow. By Sunday morning, the ground was covered with snow, and sub-freezing temperatures were found.

British Eighth Army Is Nearing Mareth Defense

"Little Maginot Line" In Tunisia Being Approached By Advancing British

PORT OF NAPLES AGAIN BOMBED

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, Feb. 8.—A spearhead of the British Eighth Army, penetrating deep into Tunisia, has reached a point less than 15 miles from the "Little Maginot Line" at Mareth, the Morocco radio said today, quoting a Cairo report.

The broadcast was heard in London by the Exchange Telegraph agency.

Smash Way Forward
Cairo, Feb. 8.—The British Eighth Army advancing westward through Libya today smashed its way forward to the Tunisian border where it is battering the Axis rearguard.

Announcement of attacks by the British along the Tunisian border was made in a Middle East high command communiqué which revealed that the large Italian port of Naples was severely pounded in a large-scale daylight raid by heavy bombers yesterday.

The planes presumably were American since United States bombers previously have been charged with daylight assault of this type in the past.

Axis Ships Smashed
Three Axis ships were smashed by direct hits and a wide stretch of waterfront was left in flames.

Contact was made with General Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's withdrawing Afrika Korps in the area west of Paida, which is 12 miles from the frontier, the communiqué said.

Jap Airdromes Badly Battered

New Britain And New Guinea Plane Bases Pounded From Air

(International News Service)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Feb. 8.—Allied heavy bombers battered the Japanese airdromes at Cape Gloucester, New Britain, and Lae, New Guinea, yesterday while a lone four-motored bomber machine-gunned two troop-filled Jap barges in Riebeck Bay, New Britain, it was announced today.

Ground fighting in the Mubo-Wau district south of Salamaua, New Guinea, was confined to patrol skirmishes, a communiqué from General Douglas MacArthur reported. The Japanese air force, still licking its wounds from its disastrous defeat two days ago when 41 of its planes were destroyed or damaged, failed to renew its assault against the Allied-held Wau airdrome.

"Substantial" casualties were inflicted on the enemy troops in Riebeck Bay, the communiqué said. Both barges were forced to beach by the lethal strafing fire of the heavy bomber, and one barge was set afire.

New Castle Man Is Prisoner Of War

U. S. Bombers Attack Naples

By W. P. SAPHIRE
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

CAIRO, Feb. 8.—A "very successful" raid by American Liberator bombers on the great Italian port of Naples was announced by the Middle East high command today as units of the British Eighth Army smashed forward to the Tunisian border.

American pilots flew hundreds of miles over enemy territory without fighter escort to reach Naples at the cost of only one bomber. A strong force of German and Italian fighters was encountered over the target area and shot down or dispersed.

Two enemy planes were known to have been destroyed and three others damaged.

Brig. Gen. Timberlake, United States bomber command chief, said: "It was one of the most successful raids yet carried out by United States aircraft in this theatre. It is a prologue to things to come."

Japs May Seek To Relieve 3,000 On Guadalcanal

Desperate Attempt To Aid Trapped Japs May Be Developing

AMERICAN FORCE OUTFLANKS JAPS

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The Japanese today were expected to make a desperate last minute attempt to relieve or aid an estimated 3,000 of their forces which were trapped on the north-west tip of Guadalcanal.

The Nipponese forces were caught in a pocket around Cape Esperance with an American pincer movement closing in on them from the east and the northwest.

This latest development of the land battle for Guadalcanal came when a strong American force outflanked the Japanese and established positions at Titi, five miles northwest of Esperance.

Navy men recalled that in the recent battle on New Guinea the Japs attempted to rush and by sea even when defeat for the Nipponese forces in the Papuan sector was inevitable.

Expect Diversion
It was considered unlikely that the Japanese would attempt under the circumstances to rush reinforcements in, but they were expected to do something that might divert American forces from the present offensive which threatens annihilation or capture of the trapped enemy troops.

Ever since the current skirmishes began between U. S. and Jap sea forces around Guadalcanal more than 10 days ago, officials have been expecting another enemy thrust against the island.

The outflanking movement placed the advancing Americans on both sides of Esperance, which was

Ruhr And Lorient Heavily Bombed

British Bombers Keep Up Program Of Blasting Nazi Bases And Industries

(International News Service)

LONDON, Feb. 8.—While the Royal Air Force was blasting the industrial Ruhr valley during the night other British bombers delivered what was officially described today as the heaviest attack of the war on the harbor and U-boat works at Lorient on the French coast.

Preliminary reports, said an air ministry communiqué, "indicated that great destruction was caused at Lorient." Military objectives in western Germany's Ruhr area were believed to have suffered heavily.

Seven bombers failed to return from the raids, the ministry announced.

The Danish radio went off the air at 12:45 a. m., usually a sign of all air activity in the neighborhood or in nearby German territory.

The night foray followed daylight offensives by R. A. F. fighter planes against northern France and Belgium. Locomotives and barges were blasted by the British planes, only one of which failed to return.

The previous night R. A. F. bombers attacked objectives in the industrial Rhineland area of Germany. Other British aircraft at the same time mined enemy waters.

Shoe Rationing Plan Now In Effect In U. S. Allows 3 Pairs Yearly

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Millions of Americans penciled a heavy circle around sugar stamp No. 17 today, reserving this coupon for the purchase of a pair of shoes under a "generous" rationing program that will provide three pairs a year for each person.

An unheralded announcement from Economic Czar James P. Byrnes outlined the latest civilian war measure—the "ideal rationing plan" which gave hoarders no advance warning and prevented a "run" on the country's stocks of footwear.

Sales Suspended Today

Sales were suspended until tomorrow, giving storekeepers time to separate rationed and unrationed items. Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown, whose agency will administer the new program, said the action would halt a wave of buying that has exceeded production; prevent stocks from reaching the danger point, and insure civilians all the shoes they need for the duration.

Four Main Points

The OEA chief said there are only four main points to remember:

1. Stamp 17 in ration book is good for one pair of shoes between Feb. 9 and June 15.

2. Stamp 17 is transferable (Continued On Page Ten)

Plan For Government Of Italy After Nation Is Knocked Out Of War

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The United States today is making definite plans to establish a military government in Italy when that country has been knocked out of the war.

These plans are being made in accord with the decision of President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill to accept nothing less than unconditional surrender of the major Axis powers.

It also was in line with these plans that the state department on Saturday served notice that the American government has no intention of dealing with Count Ciano or any of the other Fascists who were ousted from the Italian government, apparently because they were suspected of toying with the idea of seeking a separate peace with the Allies.

Unusual Move

In an unusual move, the state department, through an official spokesman, said the American government is not deceived by Ciano's removal as Italian foreign minister. The spokesman further warned that the United States intends to smash the entire Fascist regime in Italy whether its officials are in or out of office.

The occupational program for Italy is being drafted chiefly by the state and war departments, in cooperation with other government agencies. The political policy to be pursued in Italy when that country has been occupied by the Allied armies is being formulated in the state department. The plans are being mapped out by Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles, Assistant Secretary of State Adolf Berle, Jr. and Charles Yost, chief of the division of foreign territories.

U. S. Doctors Fly To Colombia To Aid In Epidemic

By SERGE, CHESTER D. PALMER

(Distributed By International News Service)

BOGOTA, Colombia, Jan. 15.—(Delayed)—Responding to a request for help from the Colombian authorities, Col. Bryon F. Johnson, U. S. M. C., United States naval attaché here, today flew doctors and medical supplies 600 miles across the Andes mountains to Uribe, on the Guagira peninsula, Colombia, where a serious outbreak of malaria has developed.

Upon arrival they learned that about 5,000 of a population of nearly 40,000 had already succumbed to the disease. The doctors landed emergency malaria supplies and complete investigation equipment, including microscopes, slides and white mice for experimental purposes.

Russians Waging Opening Phase Of Rostov Battle

Reports Indicate Fighting Already In Progress In Outskirts Of City

GERMANS MAKING DESPERATE DEFENSE

By NATALIE RENE
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Feb. 8.—A large toll of German dead was exacted today by the Soviet army in the opening phase of the battle for the Caucasus gateway city of Rostov.

While Red army artillery batteries shelled the Nazi-held metropolis from the south bank of the Don River it was reported that some Russian troop units had made their way across the gateway and were battling the defenders in the suburbs.

The Soviet high command said that the Germans were fighting desperately to maintain their grip on the oil refining center. "South of Rostov," the noon communiqué said, "an enemy attempt to regain a lost position was repelled and a large number were killed."

Battle In Outskirts

The high command lent support to word arriving from the battlefield that engagements already were underway between Russian and German troops in Rostov's southern outskirts. It was stated officially that on one sector of the Rostov front the Russians "crossed a water barrier and occupied three inhabited localities."

Earlier it was proclaimed in a special communiqué that the principal points of Nazi resistance on the south bank of the river Don had been cleared.

The Germans were reported to be using heavy tank units to combat the surging Red army in bitter mechanized battles in Rostov's southern outskirts.

Violent Street Fighting

The newspaper Afton Tidningen of Stockholm quoted the Moscow radio as stating Soviet troops "have crossed the Don river and violent street fighting is raging inside Rostov."

"The possibility that the Germans may be fighting a strong rearguard action to enable evacuation of the main Rostov forces before they are completely encircled by a

Allies Defend Course Of Gen. Giraud

Government Not Being Dictated

America And Britain Are Only Interested In North Africa As Military Base

HARMONY EXISTS MINISTERS SAY

By ROBERT G. NIXON
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, Feb. 8.—The political course of Gen. Henri Honore Giraud, high commissioner of French North and West Africa, was defended today by both the American and British ministers.

The only reason the Allies are in North Africa, they declared at a press conference, "is to use it as a base, a jumping-off place, to invade Europe and defeat Germany," and have no intention of dictating the type of government to be established in North Africa.

Both representatives, Robert D. Murphy, President Roosevelt's personal representative and minister plenipotentiary, and British Minister Harold MacMillan, emphasized the "complete harmony" which they said has existed and continues to exist in all matters, "both personal and official," concerning international relations in North Africa.

"There is no mystery attached to the local political situation in North Africa," Murphy insisted. "We hope it is understood at home and in England that we came here at the invitation of friendly Frenchmen who are seeking the liberation of France from the Axis."

Murphy said that American and British military leaders and troops "are not here as military occupation forces."

"We have, and have had, no intention of imposing a political yoke on the French people or of dictating their type of government," he declared. "This is the method the Germans used on occupied people. We don't put in gauleiters and secret police as they do."

sprinkled around the edges. Valentine's Day is a fine institution—an excellent time to let husbands and wives and sweethearts know that someone really cares.

Some excitement was caused Sunday afternoon about 12:30 when a woman who fell on the ice and snow, crossing Court street at East Washington, and a man who went to her aid, were almost run down by an auto. A car coming down Court street, slid near them, and careened into a couple of cars going along Washington street, but little damage was done. A policeman got some ashes from a nearby store, and placed them along the crossing.

Roller skates and marbles were put away over the week end, as the period of spring-like weather reverted back to winter. Something of a March wind and snow storm developed in the district on Saturday night and Sunday, and ashing crews and snowplows were at work again as a result. Snow was inclined to drift badly at some points.

ALLIED FLYERS BOMB SARDINIA

airfields in Sardinia in which British Wellington bombers were used for the first time in the area.

Both air forces have begun what is expected to be sustained operations against Sardinia, it was explained.

The island, with Sicily, is being used by the Germans and Italians as bases for planes carrying out bombing raids on Allied shipping and ground targets in Tunisia and Algeria.

The American bomber attack, carried out in surprise in broad daylight, caused great fires the length of the harbor, and a great pall of heavy smoke hung over the city as the attackers departed.

Grounded enemy planes were destroyed, and hits were scored on the Cagliari airfield, its buildings and on an adjacent seaplane base. The bombers were attacked by enemy fighters, five of which were shot down without loss.

"On the central sector enemy armored cars were engaged and dispersed."

Dispersed fighter-bombers went into the air despite bad weather and allied fleeing Axis vehicles west of Ben Gardane, 20 miles inside Tunisia.

the main Japanese landing point on the island. The main American forces have been moving toward Espérance from Tassafaronga.

When the communique on the flanking movement was issued, a navy spokesman said:

"We can now turn on the heat. Cape Espérance may yet become a Guadalcanal Dunkirk."

No mention was made by the navy of operations at sea, but it was believed that American and Japanese warships still were sparring in the Guadalcanal area. Unless the Japs withdraw forces which have been around Guadalcanal for the past 10 days, a major clash is considered probable.

Fire Damages South Side Home

Considerable Damage Sustained In Blaze Just Before Noon Today

Firemen were called to the home of Mrs. Jennie DeFonso, of 16 Home street, at 11:30 o'clock this morning, where considerable damage resulted from a blaze, believed to have started from an overheated furnace. No insurance was carried on the loss it is stated.

Mrs. DeFonso was away from home this morning, and when she returned, found the house full of smoke. She summoned neighbors who called firemen. When they arrived the fire had started to sweep through the house, but was soon brought under control, although quite a lot of damage was done.

Mrs. DeFonso lived alone in the house, it is said, and had been in poor health for some time.

COUNCILMAN DAVIES ILL

City Councilman D. O. Davies was confined to his home today because of illness.

SERGEANT FRITZ HOME FROM ALASKA

Staff Sergeant Edward D. Fritz, Jr., Fairmont avenue, has arrived home from Alaska enroute to O. C. S. at Fort Belvoir, Va. He arrived unexpectedly, Saturday. He was with the army engineers on the Alcan highway and other projects since last March and this is his first visit home since entering the army in August, 1941.

HELD FOR COURT

State Motor police Sunday morning arrested Mildred Blues, colored, Center street, on a morals charge and she was arraigned before Second Ward Alderman Edward Pritchard who committed her to jail pending an examination and court trial.

Motor police are watching persons in this section suspected of operating places detrimental to health conditions.

NOTICE TO OUR READERS

It is quite natural when someone builds a beautiful home or does something that draws the attention of the public, for some other people to want to build as near as possible, so that they may receive some of the benefit.

This same thing holds good in regard to advertising. If the public is hunting for a special Ad, they are very likely at the same time to notice the Ad that is placed next to it. We have had one certain space in The News for a great many years, but for certain reasons have tried to change it, but the people who call us by telephone, stop us on the street and want to know why we changed our space, causes us to say to our many friends and the thousands that read our Ads from week to week, that:

Beginning next week, our Ad will be in my old space, at the bottom of the second page, but in place of MONDAY'S News, it will be in TUESDAY'S. Our decision to make this change has brought to our attention the many, many people who read our Ads, and we hope they will continue to do so in the new space.

D.A.R. CHAPTER REPORT SESSION

Lawrence chapter of the D. A. R. met Saturday, February 6, in the Y. W. C. A. for its February business session, with Regent Mrs. W. W. Campbell presiding.

Following the salute to the flag, Miss Kate Stockman led in reading of the ritual.

Afterwards, reports on chapter projects were given, with Miss Lillian Perry speaking for the fats and grease drive and urging all members to secure their quota of helpers to insure great success for the project.

Red Cross report was given by Mrs. F. E. Sowersby.

Announcement was made by Mrs. Henry Golden that old fur or silk hose may be left at the Strouss-Hirschberg Company. She reported that recently a large box of furs was collected at Gerson's and packed and shipped by Strouss-Hirschberg's to Hollander's in New York to be made into vests for the merchant marine.

The Regent appointed a committee from each church to report on the position of the flags displayed.

It was decided to contribute to the Jameson Memorial Aid society. Members were reminded that subscriptions to the "penny pines" are due. It was voted that the usual $10 prize is to be presented by the chapter in June to the high school senior who does outstanding work in history. A sum of money for an addition to the Kate Duncan school was voted.

Lawrence chapter will celebrate George Washington's birthday on February 20 at the home of Mrs. W. G. Eckles, when Mrs. L. P. Hauschild will be in charge of a program of patriotic music. Each member has the privilege of inviting a guest to this meeting. Mrs. Henry Golden is in charge of reservations.

Delegates elected to the Continental Congress were: Mrs. W. W. Campbell and Miss Katherine Foulke; alternates: Mrs. James T. Ray and Mrs. E. B. Russell.

An excellent paper on "The Forebears of Lieut. General Dwight Eisenhower," who were early residents of Pennsylvania, was read by Mrs. E. J. Blanning.

Singing of one stanza of America, with Mrs. W. H. Lunkhart at the piano, brought the meeting to a close. March 6 meeting will also be at the Y. W. C. A.

Associate hostesses were Mrs. J. M. Gardner, Miss Alma Locke, Miss Helen White, Dr. Mildred Rodgers, Miss Jane Love, Miss Marjorie McAnlie, Miss Genevieve Houston, Mrs. F. G. Simonton, Mrs. Wyatt Campbell and Miss Rose Barber.

The Parent Problem

By Gary C. Myers, Ph. D.

KEEP QUARRELS FROM CHILDREN

A few years ago, after I had conducted a forum with a group of fifth grade children, a little girl came to me as her class was dismissed and said, "Mr., please tell me what I should do when my mother tells me to do something and my father tells me not to do it. I love them both." I told her:

"Sometimes when both parents seem to be happy and good natured, say to them something like this, 'Dad and Mother, I am troubled. Please help me. Sometimes one of you tells me to do something and the other tells me not to do it. Then I don't know what to do. I want to obey you both but how can I at such times?' Please, won't you get together when I am not around and agree on what I may do or may not do, so I won't need to have such a hard time trying to do right?"

Another Problem

Another letter stated a problem concerning a boy of 13: "The father is a well-bred man who works every day. When any work is being done at home, mechanized mostly, the boy is a great help. He can get the tools all ready, change a tire without help and is a willing worker. But if he gets tired or does anything wrong the father grows easily angered and a quarrel is sure to follow."

"The father resents any interference from the mother. She has tried in every way possible to make him see that too much can't be expected from that age boy; also that when the boy does a nice job he should be thanked and told the job was appreciated. The father contends that he never was praised by his parents and was not allowed to talk back (which is a habit the boy has). But the mother does not approve of that either and does not interfere except when the father goes to extremes. She says any child needs punishment at times but within reason."

The Doctor's Answer

In answering this letter I wrote that while I believe the boy should be praised more often by his father, he be treated more patiently, and be punished less severely and more reasonably. I also felt pretty sure that the mother caused the father to be worse by her attitude toward him.

I suggested that if the mother would praise the father more often when he did well with the boy, if she would avoid criticizing him before the boy, and if she would stiffen up herself and be more exacting of the father, especially in such matters as his talking back, I felt sure the father would grow more reasonable and lenient toward the boy.

TIME FOR ACTION

President Harry Woodhead of the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation has made a public statement published in the Press, that the number of men in the employ of this Aircraft Company who absent themselves from work day to day amounts to a daily average of about ten per cent of the total number of employees.

At the Consolidated factory in San Diego there are about forty thousand men employed and this means the idleness of four thousand men every twenty-four hours. Mr. Woodhead says that nearly the whole force is on duty paydays, but the number off duty the first and second days before pay days is simply atrocious. Something should be done about this.

The nation is drafting men into the Armed Forces. It is permitting the Labor racketeers to ask continually for increased wages for men employed in defense plants of all kinds. The Draft Boards are exempting most of the employees in these defense plants, whether they are good, bad or indifferent. All a man has to do to assure the Draft Board that he is an employee, for

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON — Elmer Davis, OWI chief, speaking of reported naval battle in the Solomons: "It is still a case of striking out with your left" again and again, feeling the enemy out. They are still sparring. The Japanese claim a bit war by bombing or blockade alone. It can only be won when soldiers have got in and take physical possession."

LONDON — Vice Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, commando chief: "We cannot possibly win this war by bombing or blockade alone. It can only be won when soldiers have got in and take physical possession."

WASHINGTON — Sen. Elmer Thomas (D-Ore.), on food rationing: "The public might just as well be warned what it is facing. It is obvious that the armed forces and those in foreign lands we will try to feed will get the best food of what we can ship, and we can take what is left."

LONDON — Lieut. Gen. Frank M. Andrews, new commander of American forces in Europe: "We will build up our bombing force here as fast as the formation of new units and shipping will permit."

WASHINGTON — Joseph E. Davies, former ambassador to Russia, still speculating on possibility of Hitler's death: "Hitler, if he were acting in character, would certainly be out in front, with confidence in his persuasive powers to preserve his leadership."

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 6:26. Sun rises tomorrow 8:01.

There seems to be a lot of lazy people in this country. There are those who do not work at all, and some loaf while they are on the payroll all they can.

Quite a few birds have been arrested for impersonating army officers. In peace time impersonating an officer was learning up against a telegram pole.

Well, how is the break knife working?

No fiercely troubled face is beautiful.

Love is more than a meal ticket.

Who could ever be a glutton if he had to live on mutton.

OH, THIS LANGUAGE!

The charming wife of a French diplomat had never thoroughly mastered the English language. She was urging an American naval officer to attend a dinner, the invitation to which he had already declined. The lady insisted that he must go, but the young officer said he could not possibly do so, as he had "burned his bridges behind him."

The lady misunderstood the word. "That will be all right," she exclaimed. "I lend you a pair of my husband's."

It is still too early to tell whether Leon Henderson's successor will be popular or do his duty.

There are people who say very nice things when they write letters. For some reason they do not always say nice things when talking.

To listen well is as powerful a means of influence as to speak well.

There is always something. Rationing canned goods will make less empty can for war use.

Can't believe the bustle will return, as rumored. Why add to war horrors?

Aviation advances, but time remains the champion flier of them all.

Judge (to elderly witness): "Your age, madam?"
Witness: "Thirty."
Judge: "Thirty what?"

Judge: "Thanks. I thought it might be months."

But if a thin coat of tin makes a steel can a tin can, should we say a woman has a rough fate?

PROSPECTIVE MOTHER-IN-LAW
"My only son is about to marry and I want to do everything possible to establish an entente cordiale so that there will never be any estrangement between him and me. Can you give me any advice?"

MOTHER-IN-LAW-TO-BE
Answer: First of all, forget that his wife is an in-law. That word, which I sometimes think should be banished from our language, comes up suggestions which frequently put up an insurmountable barrier. Why should we feel any more restrained with our in-laws than we do with our friends? Treat her as you would your own daughter. With this exception: Keep all unsolicited suggestions to yourself.

Advice coming from a mother-in-law is often interpreted as unwanted interference or as a command. Never drop in, uninvited, to visit her for even an afternoon or an evening. If you would like to make a call, telephone first to ascertain if the moment will be propitious.

Regardless of her extravagance with your son's hard-earned, scanty salary, do not remind her of it. Let your son work out this problem with her. If you have household items that you would like to offer them, do so in such a way that she can gracefully decline if she does not want them. Be generous with your invitations to meals. Most brides find cooking a hardship and enjoy occasional relief from it.

When they have children, refrain from criticizing her "new-fangled" ideas about child-rearing, which is one of the sore spots with young mothers. They believe that it is imperative for junior to have his orange juice, mashed bananas (if any) and cereal at regular intervals, despite mother-in-law's ideas of how she brought up six healthy children without the aid of such modern "fads."

Question: Is it always necessary for the bride to furnish gloves and hose for her bridesmaids and matron-of-honor? I feel that this would be a little steep for me. Can it be dispensed with?—KITTY

Answer: Sometimes a bride, instead of giving her attendants gifts, will supply each with an item of apparel to be worn at the wedding. It may be hats, gloves or stockings. But it is not necessary for her to supply these items and present the attendants with gifts, too. Either one will be sufficient. The bride's gifts to her attendants should be presented at a luncheon given by her in their honor a few days before her wedding.

Tomorrow: Courtesies women appreciate.

The woman lecturer was going strong. "Yes," she cried emphatically, "women have been misjudged for ages. They have suffered in a thousand ways."

She paused to give the listeners time to consider the momentous statement.

"There's one way in which they never have suffered and never will," murmured the little man.

The lecturer fixed her eye on him. "And what way is that," she demanded.

"They have never suffered in silence."

"What is the name of that selection your daughter sang?" asked the guest.

"That wasn't a selection," replied her host. "It was forced on us."

Japs May Be Planning To Seize Siberia
Nazis Anxious For Some Kind Of Action
Must Make Move Soon Ere It's Too Late

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Japan is suspected of a plan to grab all of Siberia from Russia. It's a suspicion based, not on definite news, but on rumor and conclusions. Nevertheless, there appears to be considerable basis for it. The possibility has Washington diplomacy and military experts guessing.

One consideration is that the Nazis must be exceedingly anxious to see the Soviets formidably engaged on their eastern frontier. Nobody imagines that Tokyo will have the inclination to oblige them, for their own Teutonic benefit. However, it is a convenient moment for Nippon to undertake to gobble territory that it wants to gobble, anyway.

By stirring up the eastern Asiatic rumble, the assumption is that the Japs hope to keep the United States from concentrating on them prematurely, from their standpoint. Action is their objective, before we have time to get busy in their direction.

It is reported that Tokyo has been making very liberal offers to Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

It would like the support of his manpower against Russia, but all it specifically asks for is his sympathetic attitude—in Japan's favor, not necessarily in favor of the whole Axis.

I would say that Chiang's good faith toward the United Nations was pretty well guaranteed by his previous policy. Still, the Japs have their own reckonings in such matters. And they know that he has complained of neglect by the United States in particular and the rest of the United Nations in general.

Additionally, Tokyo has proposed independence to the Philippines. The Jap aim is Asiatic solidarity.

The Nips would like to scoop in India.

What the Japs want is an economic union, rather than a military one.

Maybe the Chinese Chungking government has been putting a spur into the United Nations to spur them into Chinese-ism.

Chiang's loyalty is not in question. Some of Chiang's advisers and generals though, have got him worried.

They are disposed to accept the Jap concessions offered to them—on a World war but an Asiatic basis.

That Casablanca conference did not register in China.

What we need is a presidential-generalissimo confab in Chungking.

We do not seem to have just the right man to do our Chungking conferring.

I caught not to be so difficult. I have met a lot of Chinese diplomats.

I have met plenty of Japs also, but the trouble with them is that

The emergency meeting of the society for the prevention of double talk will please come to order.

Ladies and gentlemen: The Ruml plan is nicely bogged down. Every pompous voice in committee is raised against it and we are apt to get stuck with some ponderous double-talks-in-one-year substitute that will send us all to the poor farm.

Your society has examined the arguments against the Ruml plan and added them to its file collection of bumptious, flag-waving, illogical, double talk Americana.

Your society recommends that you re-examine the Ruml plan, re-examine the arguments against it, read every line you can find pro or con and cast your vote with your congressman.

You sent him to congress to represent you. . . see that he does or forever hold your peace.

You people in the back of the hall . . . If you have not already joined the society for the prevention of double talk write for your membership card today. We'll send it along. No kidding.

Keep the wind bags flying.

Inflation Crisis

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. IT SHOULD be clear by now that we are not gaining in our fight to avert inflation—quite the contrary. The people as a whole do not realize this, but every informed man in Washington does. And not many minimize the danger.

THE REASONS for this menacing situation are not hard to find. The big basic one, of course, is that, so far as domestic affairs are concerned, we are in the hand of persons who lack either the courage or the ability—or both—to make decisions. There is no clearer proof of this than the long delay of the Administration in coming to grips with the inflation problem, and its indefensible feebleness in dealing with it after it did. For many months, despite warnings, it let things drift without any legislation at all. When finally it passed a price-control bill it still insisted upon the obvious absurdity that prices could be controlled without wage control or a ceiling over farm products.

THE Secretary of the Treasury took that position following the example of the President and his Price Commission and Mr. E. M. Baruch was put in the White House doghouse for expressing the opposite view. When, after many more months, the Administration reversed its position and agreed that wages and food products must both be controlled, it instituted the weakest kind of control and none at all until, as predicted, rising wages and food prices had made the retail price ceilings bulge and the cost of living, ascend. Now, the union-labor forces and the farm forces are both gathering strength for an assault upon the restrictions finally placed on wages and farm prices.

SO FAR as wages are concerned, the restrictions are bound up in what is known as the Little Steel formula, adopted by the War Labor Board after a long period in which wage advance after wage advance had been granted. There was at the time general acceptance of this price as fair by the labor leaders. It had been promulgated by a friendly board and was looked upon pretty much as a labor victory. All that the public got out of it was that finally the Administration had called a halt upon the steady advance of wages and laid down a principle for the future that seemed to insure stability.

BUT NOW the labor leaders insist that this formula is "outmoded" and

LOOKING AT LIFE

—By Erich Brandeis

Three youths have been sentenced to death for murdering and killing a man in a Harlem hold-up.

One of them is 18 years old, the second 19 and the third is 21.

The crime was brutal. There is no extenuating circumstance. The punishment is just.

And yet, it will be spring when the sentence is carried out.

All over the country 16-year old kids will play ball and have one heck of a good time after a long winter.

At Sing Sing prison a 16-year old boy will sit in the electric chair on spring night at 11 o'clock and give his life for a life he has taken.

The second boy is 19.

All over the world 19-year old American boys will be fighting for their country. They will share in the glory of victory. They will come back as men, ready to take up lives of usefulness and achievement.

At Sing Sing a 19-year old boy will sit in the electric chair at 11:05 at night, and a doctor will hold a stethoscope to his heart and say:

"I pronounce this man dead."

Thousands of 21-year olds will vote for the first time this year in local elections. They are of age. They are men!

But Frank Holmes of Harlem will not vote this year nor next nor ever after.

For Frank Holmes will have been electrocuted at Sing Sing prison on a spring night before he had a chance to reach the ballot box.

Certainly they are criminals. Certainly they should be punished.

But who was responsible for their crimes? Who created the conditions in which they lived, who let them grow up in a background so filthy, so vile, so rotten and so foul that boys who should have just started their lives are now through and done?

When I read stories like that of these kids, I always feel a bit ashamed of myself.

What have I done to make this world the least bit better to live in? What have I contributed to that so-called civilization?

Isn't part of the crime for which these boys will die also my crime? Life is pretty deep, isn't it?

They are unreliable. The Chinese are dependable.

Over here on our two sides of the oceans, the totalitarians do not throw much weight around. The Japs, pretty numerous on the Pacific side, have not registered materially, and do not seem to want it.

The South American Jap-Americans have just held a convention in Uruguay, to declare themselves as Pro-American and anti-German.

The pro-Axis Japs are not numerous enough to call a convention.

The expatriated Germans, to be sure, remain more or less pro-German.

The expatriated Japs do not. They're locally assimilated.

But, consider the Japs in Hawaii. They're in a class something like our Negroes in the Continental United States. If they have been here long enough they are assimilated. They stand for it.

But have they stood for it long enough to signify?

We are all okay. But diplomatically and socially and economically? Within my recollection, "Chinks" and "Japs" belonged in the same classification approximately, varying somewhat with geography.

Now they are nationalities. "Chinks"—Chinese. "Japs"—you know that.

Will the Chinese tie up with the Japs? That is a serious question. The entire Far East is something to ponder over.

lad. This principle applies to thousands of mothers. Their over-protectiveness often causes the father to grow far more severe.

Moreover, in such cases as the foregoing, improvement is to come, the parents will have to work out their differences in the absence of the child and in his presence try to be as one. In my book, The Modern Parent, I have devoted a chapter to "Parents who disagree before their children."

A selected list of books for parents about family relations, about guiding the baby, child and adolescent, and the various common problems facing any parent almost daily, may be had without cost by writing me at 235 East 45th St., New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. My daughter who does well in reading and arithmetic is a very poor speller. Do you think she might have been born a poor speller?

A. No, since she reads well, she almost surely can learn to spell. Help her to start on short, easy words at first in a calm, quiet way, looking carefully at the word, pronouncing it, naming the letters in it in order as she looks carefully at it, repeating this process several times in succession without looking away from the word, before she tries to spell it. Be sure she does not confuse letters of the alphabet. For further suggestions see my special bulletin, "Home Helps for Poor Spellers," to be had without cost to you by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a 3-cent stamp on it.

demand that it no longer be regarded as the yardstick by which success in pushing her formula aside, it means two things—first, further wage advances, and second, further rises in farm products. The only hope of keeping a ceiling on farm prices is to keep the ceiling on wages. If one goes, the other goes, and when both go then all control over the cost of living has gone and the imposition of the price ceilings on retail articles becomes futile and foolish. If that happens, then there is nothing really to stop the runaway inflation which spells ruin.

THEREFORE, it is clear that the War Labor Board has in its hands a very vital decision. If it weakens on its own formula no one can foresee the extent of the disaster. If it stands firm and is supported firmly by the professional labor leaders, a screen for grasping money and more power can be definitely ended. Then, there would be a real defense against the demands of the farm lobby, but not otherwise. Then there would be a real chance to control inflation. Even under those circumstances, however, it will be no easy job, the being that the Administration itself has vastly increased its difficulty—first, by its delay in doing anything, and second, by still ignoring two of the basic requisites which experience has shown to be essential. One of these is rigid retrenchment in all non-war governmental expenditures; the other is the initiating of an adequate tax program that will lessen a mass purchasing power risen to dangerous heights.

WITH A new Congress and an awakened public sentiment there is a chance that these two great gaps in the anti-inflation fight may be bridged this session. Without them wage control and food control are not enough. But, if in the meantime, the Administration permits itself to be pushed around by the labor leaders, then nothing can save us unless Congress, spurred by a people whose patience is exhausted, takes the situation in hand, lays down a policy and enacts legislation that can be neither evaded nor pushed aside. In any event, the present assault of organized labor on the Little Steel formula creates a crisis which concerns us all.

THROUGH PROCRASTINATE indecision and weakness, we have now reached a desperate situation for which desperate remedies are required. The trouble is there is no one to order them and no one who knows how to apply them if they were ordered. There is neither understanding of the gravity of the problem nor willingness to take the firm steps needed to meet it. It is true there are available able men who, given authority, could yet save the situation. But, they are not in office here. Any call of the roll of the war agencies will prove that. The war on the home front just can't be won by the combination of New Deal politicians, second-rate businessmen, theoretical lawyers and lame ducks who are in the key positions here.

Senator Proposes Limiting Army To 9,000,000 In '43

Also Intensifies Campaign To Delay Drafting Married Men With Children

By WILLIAM S. NEAL (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Congressional concern over growth of the army was emphasized today in proposals to limit the size of the fighting forces to 9,000,000 this year as well as an intensified movement to delay drafting of married men with children.

Sen. Johnson (D. Colo., member of the senate military affairs committee, suggested a 9,000,000 limit for the armed services as compared to the present plan of 11,200,000 in the army, navy and Allied services. Chairman May (D. Ky., of the house military affairs committee also protested against army plans prepared for opening of hearings next Thursday by the house military affairs committee on his bill to compel drafting of single men, who have no occupational deferment before married men are taken.

The administration it was disclosed, has informed house leaders that it strongly oppose revision of the draft act.

Sen. Johnson declared that the proposed 9,000,000 limit would still enable the army to send 3,000,000 overseas this year.

"I believe congress should leave the 'work or fight' order alone but it should relieve the desperate manpower situation and the obvious necessity of inducting married men with children promiscuously by limiting the total of armed forces to 9,000,000 for this calendar year," he said.

Laval Agrees To Raised Price Of Nazi Occupation

France Now Pays 500,000,000 Francs Daily To Support German Troops

(International News Service)

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Pierre Laval, at his recent meeting with Adolf Hitler and the Italian Count Galeazzo Ciano, agreed to pay Germany 500,000,000 francs daily to support German occupation troops in France—an increase of 200,000,000 francs a day, authoritative sources declared today.

Ciano, then foreign minister, also extracted from Laval an agreement to pay Italy an additional 35,000,000 francs daily, it was learned.

Other promises reported to have been made by France's gauleiter included an increase of rolling stock shipments to Germany and dispatch of 2,500 more railroad workers to the Reich. Wheat shipments to Germany also will be increased, according to the reported agreements.

Clean Out Four Gaming Houses In Pittsburgh Area

Police Close Three, Bandits Hold Up And Rob Fourth In Turtle Creek

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 8.—Police and bandits collaborated yesterday in cleaning out four gambling houses in Pittsburgh, McKees Rocks and Turtle Creek.

While county detectives and officers closed two gambling houses in Pittsburgh and another in McKees Rocks, three masked bandits lined up between 20 and 30 patrons of Tony Cima's Casino in Turtle Creek and ran off with approximately $4,400.

The bandits, all masked, stripped the victims of their wallets and lifted the money from the gaming tables while cowering the gamblers with two large calibre revolvers and a sub-machine gun.

instance, at the Consolidated Aircraft Factory and he is exempted. The pay of the Armed Forces is fixed at a certain figure. The pay has been raised during this emergency for the first time for a great many years. It probably will not be changed again, but this pay, liberal as it may seem to the citizen, is very small compared to the pay of the workers in defense plants.

Following the last war, there was much said about drafting capital and labor into the Armed Forces in the event of another such catastrophe, but the Powers in Washington are so afraid of losing a vote that they have not made any effort to draft anything but capital. Labor spells a great many more votes than does Capital, and that is the answer. But here is a situation entailing a great loss of man power in our war material factories and nothing is being done about it.

If the Congress of these United States would now require every employer of labor in the defense plants to report the names of the men absenting themselves—except by reason of sickness or any other good reason—to the Draft Boards for immediate call into the Military Services, the great leak in the production lines would be stopped. It is high time that something of that sort should be done.

And I might add a little more: The Congress might at the same time apply the rod to the strikers who menace our war program. The leaders of these uncalled for strikers should likewise be inducted into the Armed Forces, whether they were thirty-eight, forty-eight, or fifty-eight years of age, or put behind the bars. It would clear the atmosphere considerably.

Shoe Retailers Approve Ration Plan As "Fair"

Three Pairs Yearly Gives Consumer About Same Number As Before Rationing

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The retail shoe industry will cooperate wholeheartedly with the government in the rationing plan for shoes, Harold F. Volk, president of the national shoe retailers association said today.

Volk, Dallas, Texas, shoe dealer, in a statement issued at his New York headquarters said the rationing plan of three pairs a year would give consumers about the same number of pairs as before rationing. He said the five year average indicated each individual used 3.7 pairs of shoes a year.

"In the belief that this order is one of the fairest that could have been prepared, to meet the circumstances," Volk said, "I feel it should get the sincere and wholehearted cooperation of every merchant."

Ciano Appointed Envoy To Vatican

(International News Service)

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Count Galeazzo, son-in-law of Premier Mussolini, has been appointed Italian ambassador to the Vatican, according to a Rome radio broadcast today.

Ciano was replaced as a foreign minister, a post he held since 1936, by Mussolini Friday in a series of ministerial changes.

(The London radio, in a broadcast heard by CBS, said that "the Duce, who is now minister for pretty well everything except his non-existent North African colonies, is reported to be getting ready for yet another shake-up, this time among his diplomats.")

OFFICE MANAGER IN ERIE

A L. Fath, manager of the local social security office and bureau of old age and survivors insurance, left Sunday to attend a 3-day meeting in Erie, Pa., of heads of district offices and personnel. Miss Emma Painter, of the local office, is also attending the conference.

Purpose of the meeting is to give instruction in Job Methods Training designed to streamline office procedure for the duration in accordance with a War Manpower Commission plan.

Hoover Foresees Long War For U. S.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Former President Hoover today said that "we must prepare for a long war." "Including the defeat of Japan," he stated, "we must envisage at least three more years of war and a prudent nation would possibly envisage five years."

The American manpower problem involves the coordination of wide issues. If we attempt too much on the military side, we may commit the fatal error of overstrain on the home front and thus damage our effectiveness in ultimate victory."

they are unreliable. The Chinese are dependable.

Over here on our two sides of the oceans, the totalitarians do not throw much weight around. The Japs, pretty numerous on the Pacific side, have not registered materially, and do not seem to want it.

The South American Jap-Americans have just held a convention in Uruguay, to declare themselves as Pro-American and anti-German.

The pro-Axis Japs are not numerous enough to call a convention.

The expatriated Germans, to be sure, remain more or less pro-German.

The expatriated Japs do not. They're locally assimilated.

But, consider the Japs in Hawaii. They're in a class something like our Negroes in the Continental United States. If they have been here long enough they are assimilated. They stand for it.

But have they stood for it long enough to signify?

We are all okay. But diplomatically and socially and economically? Within my recollection, "Chinks" and "Japs" belonged in the same classification approximately, varying somewhat with geography.

Now they are nationalities. "Chinks"—Chinese. "Japs"—you know that.

Will the Chinese tie up with the Japs? That is a serious question. The entire Far East is something to ponder over.

Warns Subs Are Worst Menace

Knox Says Germany Is Concentrating On Sub Warfare—More Subs In Use

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox reveals that Germany is concentrating all its efforts on submarine warfare in the Atlantic and warned that the U-boat menace is the most serious confronting the United Nations.

"Hitler is concentrating on submarines as the major sea effort of the war," Knox said at a press conference. "He is putting more and more submarines into operation."

The secretary said that Germany is concentrating on building submarines and added that there are more U-boats at sea now than there were last June.

"It is one of the most serious menaces—no, the most serious menace we have to confront," Knox said. "We are straining every effort to meet it."

The secretary said the navy is pushing to completion every type of escort vessel needed to convoy supplies across the Atlantic to the fighting fronts.

Knox said that the German submarines are concentrating their attacks in the central Atlantic and also on the shipping lanes south of Iceland.

Your Federal Income Tax

NO. 31
INTEREST DEDUCTIONS
(PART 1)

Interest on indebtedness, with certain exceptions, is an allowable deduction in arriving at net income for federal income tax purposes. Deductible interest includes both interest incurred in connection with one's business or profession, and interest on personal indebtedness. Interest on business indebtedness should be shown either in Schedule B to arrive at the net amount of rents and royalties entered as item 6 of the return, or in Schedule H to arrive at the net profit (or loss) shown in item 9 of the return Form 1040, but interest on personal indebtedness should be shown under item 13 of deductions. Interest shown in item 13 must also be supported by an explanation (in Schedule C) of the deduction.

Interest on personal indebtedness may include interest on a mortgage on one's home, interest on the purchase price of household goods purchased on the installment plan, as well as interest on personal loans. Interest paid on a judgment or on unpaid taxes is also deductible. It is not necessary that the indebtedness be secured by a lien or mortgage for the interest to be deductible, but there must be a legal obligation on the taxpayer to pay the interest.

In entering interest deductions, several distinctions and qualifications must be kept in mind. In the case of a mortgage loan on one's home, the contract frequently calls for a monthly payment covering both interest and amortization of the loan. As a portion of the payment represents interest, and a portion represents payment of principal, and each payment made reduces the amount representing interest on the next installment and increases the amount representing repayment of principal it is necessary to make a separation of the two amounts in totaling the interest paid during the year. In F. H. A. loans the monthly payment includes not only interest and amortization, but an amount for loan insurance, accrued taxes, and fire insurance. Ordinarily the institution holding the mortgage will supply the taxpayer with a statement of the interest paid during the year.

Tenant-stockholders of cooperative apartments may also include as interest deduction the proportion of interest paid or incurred by the apartment corporation on its outstanding indebtedness contracted for the purpose of acquisition, construction, alteration, rehabilitation, or maintenance of the apartment building, or in the acquisition of land on which it is located.

Likewise in the case of personal loans and installment purchases, a portion of the payments frequently represents "insurance" and "finance charges." As only the amounts representing interest are deductible, it is advisable to obtain a statement from the store or finance company as to the amount of the payment which represents interest. Where the contract of purchase provides only for payment by a series of payments, with no mention of interest, no interest would be deductible.

Frequently interest is in the form of discount, that is, the amount of the interest is deducted from the proceeds of the loan to the borrower at the time of making the loan. Such discount would be an allowable interest deduction at the time the loan is paid (or, in the case of a taxpayer the accrual basis, as the interest accrues).

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Feb. 8.—The office of price administration is closely watching state-owned automobiles to make certain they are not using gasoline unnecessarily. Governor Edward Martin met with Guy J. Swope, of Harrisburg, local O. P. A. official, and assured him that state cars would eliminate unnecessary travel. . . . Conscientious state officials have tried to stop the "joy riding" habits of employees in previous administrations, but were hampered in their efforts because many top-ranking officials failed to set an example for their subordinates. . . . Former Governor Pinchot even went as far as to have the cars painted a distinctive sand color.

The department of public assistance is being attacked by legislators who are demanding that relief officials stop requiring indigent persons to sign bonds as a prerequisite to receiving benefits. . . . Several bills have been introduced in the assembly to abolish the bond requirement but the department is expected to weather the storm as it has in previous years. . . . Major reason cited by officials is that while the relief picture is bright at present and "chiseling" has been reduced to a minimum they fear that the rolls will assume huge proportions after the war when the department must attempt to regain some of the money expended.

Governor Martin has been in office for more than three weeks but rumors of wholesale dismissals of state employees have failed to materialize. . . . When past governors were in office for several weeks the rumor that "the ax is going to fall" swept Capitol Hill like wildfire. The report became an actuality within a short time. But so far in the present administration everything seems quiet. Employees, while they anticipate a shakeup in the higher-salaried brackets, believe they will be safe in their jobs because of the shortage of capable workers. The governor has indicated no intentions of inaugurating a mass firing schedule every bi-monthly payday as was the custom of governors in former years.

The department of internal affairs, which supervises the inspectors who enforce the standard weights and measures law, is endeavoring to guard against "cheating" by grocers now that food rationing is imminent. The inspectors weigh 10 per cent of the packages on hand in a store as a sample of honest weight. Prosecutions are not pressed if the items are not excessively out of line with the table of weights. Tolerances on one-pound packages include one-half ounce for apple butter, bacon, corn beef, canned berries, cakes, sliced beef, canned beans, cocoa, corn meal, peanut butter, sauerkraut and tomatoes. A quarter-ounce tolerance is allowed on crackers, cereals, clams, rolled oats, preserves, salt and barley.

Philosophy Professor Plays With Son In Army; Moves Made By Mail

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Feb. 8.—Proving the old adage that anything can be accomplished by will, a professor of philosophy at the Pennsylvania State College continues to play chess with his son in the Army. Dr. Ray H. Dotterer, head of the department of philosophy at Penn State, has been accustomed to a weekly game of chess with his son John, a local physician, who is now on active duty with the Army Medical Corps. Distance has had no effect on the game except to extend the time limit. The moves are made by U. S. mail.

According to Professor Dotterer the current game has not reached its exciting stage. Only five moves have been carried out and each player has taken a pawn. Lieutenant Dotterer is now stationed at Carlisle Barracks.

Change Address Of Navy Men At Sea

Mail Is Now Sent In Care Of Fleet Post Office Instead Of Postmasters

Postmaster William R. Hanna has been advised that mail addressed to men in the United States Navy and who are at sea, should be sent in care of the Fleet Post Office, New York City, or San Francisco, instead of the old designation of "in care of Post Master, New York City, or San Francisco."

Air mail to men overseas carries a rate of six cents per one-half ounce or fraction thereof, instead of six cents per ounce or fraction thereof in the United States, Mr. Hanna states.

SURE, you'd rather hand them to him... but you don't have to see him to know that he'll appreciate a carton of Camels.

For with men in all the services, cigarettes are a gift they want most from home.

And when you send him Camels—the mild, slow-burning cigarette—you're sending the brand men in the service prefer. Army, Navy, Marines, Coast Guard—the favorite is Camel.* And, though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. ## Beauty Is Charged With Impersonating Navy Air Officer

Girl, 18, Adopted Pose To See Secret Husband, Deceived Parents About 'Missions'

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—An 18-year-old beauty with a flare for the mysterious who became known to her friends as "The Shadow," today was free in bail pending federal action on charges of impersonating a U. S. Navy lieutenant. The girl, vivacious Agnete Louise Wilfred, a clerk, adopted the pose, according to the F. B. I. to see her husband, James R. McBurney, an aviation instructor, whom she secretly married while attending Dana Hall, a prep school at Wellesley, Mass.

The deception, officials said, began when the girl told her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilfred, of West Nyack, N. Y., that she was doing "secret" work for the navy flying bombers in Alaska and Africa. Her "missions" the F. B. I. said, explained her long absences from home.

Although she continued to work as a clerk, the girl had her parents so convinced she was a navy flyer

Dominic Carbone, aged 19 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Carbone of 105 South Liberty street, is in a serious condition in the Jameson Memorial hospital, suffering from burns about his body which were sustained in a peculiar accident at the plant of the Universal Sanitary and Manufacturing Company, Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock.

He had gone through an ash pit door under one of the boilers at the plant to clean out the ashes, which were supposed to have been wet down thoroughly to remove the fire from them, when the gas accumulated there, exploded, enveloping his body in hot gas and vapor. He had to crawl out the door himself, and was fortunate in escaping with his life.

He was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment, where it was stated today that he had spent a fair night.

He was to have gone to Erie next Saturday for his final physical examination before entering the army.

Cheese May Also

Join Ration List

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Food Administrator Wickard's action in ordering all major cheese manufacturers to set aside 50 per cent of their American cheese production for government use today revived the possibility that cheese will be rationed along with meat.

With canned goods rationing announced for March and meat rationing believed on the schedule for April, food experts said cheese rationing also was necessary.

Cheese, it was said, contains virtually all the minerals found in meats and is a good meat substitute. Wickard's order will mean that the average American will eat 16 pounds less cheese of all varieties than he did in 1942.

Be Sent From City
To Transfer Camp

Bundles for America have in readiness ten pianos and two pool tables, which will be taken by truck to the Shenango depot at Transfer, Pa., for men in service, to be placed in recreation rooms.

The pianos have been tested and tuned before leaving local B-A headquarters. However, Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, president, states that seven of the pianos have benches or stools, but there are three without. A plea is made that if anyone has either a bench or a piano stool they wish to donate please call local headquarters on East street, phone 6518, and they will be called for. It is hoped that this number will be secured by tomorrow morning, so that all can be loaded on the trucks.

Mrs. Edwina Rappold states that anyone having any hand knitted garments, such as sweaters, scarfs, dresses, etc., that are not being used, should call the above number. All articles will be picked up, washed and unravelled and put to good use for Uncle Sam by knitters of Bundles for America. Yarns are needed, and this call is of utmost importance.

This is prelude to furnishing 15 more day rooms by local Bundles for America. The New Castle B-A furnished the first five of these through generosity of local residents for boys in uniform.

New Opportunities
Available For WAACSCan Now Enroll For Training
In Wide Variety Of Skilled Jobs

Opening of two new Women's Army Auxiliary Corps training centers, and the demand for additional categories of trained WAACS to take posts with the Army, relieving men for combat duty, has accelerated the enrollment plan for the corps in the New Castle district. Sgt. John Bilpuch, in charge of recruiting here, stated today.

The two new camps are located at Daytona Beach, Fla., and Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. With the opening of these new camps, the corps hopes to soon reach its authorized strength of 150,000 women trained for duty with the Army.

The Army Air Forces has asked Director Oleta Culp Hobby of the WAAC to supply them with WAACS trained in a number of specialties, including aircraft electricians, instrument specialists, mechanics, metal workers, parachute riggers, radio mechanics and operators, weather observers, armorers, bomb-sight repairmen, gun-sight mechanics, etc.

Local women interested in this opportunity are asked to call at the local Army recruiting office, second floor, Post Office building, at once, where full details will be explained.

Strafe Jap Troops,

Trucks In Burma

(International News Service)
CHUNGKING, Feb. 8.—American Warhawk fighters strafed Japanese trucks and troops last Wednesday and Thursday in the vicinity of Kuka, Wauling and Kengtung in Burma, a United States air force communiqué said today.

Approximately 20 trucks and buses, many loaded with troops, were destroyed, the statement declared, and several army barracks were set afire. Near Kengtung an anti-aircraft emplacement was silenced. One Japanese plane was destroyed on the ground. All of the American planes returned safely.

"Hysterical" Rush For War Jobs By New York Husbands

McNutt's "Produce-Or-Fight"
Order Not Properly Interpreted, Says WMC

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg, regional director of the War Manpower Commission, insisted on Saturday that the rush by thousands of married New Yorkers for war jobs following the WMC "produce-or-fight" order was "hysterical."

Present with Col. Arthur V. McDermott, New York City director of selective service, at a joint conference, Mrs. Rosenberg declared that the order had not been properly interpreted and explained that everything possible would be done to help men shift from non-essential to war jobs.

The WMC official disclosed that the decision to draft married men with families had been reached with the greatest "reluctance," and that it had been decided to begin with those whose present jobs are not contributing to the war effort.

FRUIT

Fruit is valuable principally for vitamins and chemicals. The banana is a good source of starch but the others do not have much of it.

The citrus fruits are fine for vitamins. Lemons, oranges and grape fruit belong to this family. They are the source of citric acid.

Bill Would Revise War-Time School Program In State

By JOHN PAGET

(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

It is a good thing to take if you have a cold. Get an ounce of it at the drug store and make your- self some "citrus lemonade." Take a pitcher of water and put in enough citric acid and sugar to make it taste good. Drink as much as you want.

Apples, pears, peaches, plums and other fruits and berries are very valuable for our diet. They are so pretty that they help the appetite. They supply some starch and sugar put up in a very pretty package. They are valuable either canned or fresh.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 8.—Pennsylvania's school children today were faced with a revision of the war-time school year to make physically- able pupils available for possible farm and domestic work in areas where labor shortages exist.

The temporary overhauling of the 180-day school year was proposed by Republican Senators T. B. Wilson, of McKean, and Frederick L. Homsher, of Lancaster, in a bill which may be passed by the senate and sent to the house for consideration tonight when the general assembly convenes for the fifth legislative week.

The house has 14 bills on its calendar for action while the senate has seven. Three hundred measures have been introduced in the assembly since actual work began on January 18. The senate meets at 5 p. m. and the house at 9 p. m.

The school measure directs the department of public instruction to consider requests of local school boards for permission to close schools temporarily, reassign teachers, revamp the length of daily sessions and issue "temporary farm and domestic employment certificates to certain pupils."

Trin added that all projects in the state will be completed by May 1 when millions of dollars in equipment and machinery used by the Federal work-relief agency will be utilized for the war effort.

"The army, navy and federal public roads division will absorb all of the machinery we have," he asserted, "although none of the equipment is suitable for use in a battle zone."

"A large part of the road equipment," he disclosed, "including heavy trucks, steam rollers and power shovels, will go to the public roads division which is building the Alcan highway from the United States to Alaska."

The dead were Captain Murray Baltimore; Norman Hickman, fireman; Ole Knutsen, deckhand; Andrew Benekos, deckhand; and Alpheus Dixon, cook all from Philadelphia.

State WPA Road Building Machinery Being Transported

HARRISBURG, Feb. 8.—A 20-carload shipment of valuable W. P. A. road-building equipment from Pennsylvania is being expedited across the country presumably for use on the Alcan highway. State W. P. A. administrator Richard Irvin disclosed today.

Irvin added that all projects in the state will be completed by May 1 when millions of dollars in equipment and machinery used by the Federal work-relief agency will be utilized for the war effort.

"The army, navy and federal public roads division will absorb all of the machinery we have," he asserted, "although none of the equipment is suitable for use in a battle zone."

"A large part of the road equipment," he disclosed, "including heavy trucks, steam rollers and power shovels, will go to the public roads division which is building the Alcan highway from the United States to Alaska."

Special Courses For Men Soon To Be In Army Ranks

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 8.—With the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps due to be called to active duty in a few weeks, Westminister college is "streamlining" classes in an effort to offer as much college credit as possible to men students who will leave for the armed services. By special arrangement, two new courses will be given every afternoon for three weeks, according to Dean Maxwell R. Kelso.

Trigonometry and navigation, both basic to military science, are the only two courses offered at present, but by the end of the three weeks, more courses, such as meteorology, and other sciences may be offered. Students drop all other classes when taking these courses.

An informal class in radio code is being offered to interested men by J. R. Meek, of New Wilmington.

BOYS IN SKIFF ARE MISSING ON RIVER

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 8.—Pittsburgh district police today were looking for two boys in a skiff who gave fictitious names yesterday and disappeared after they passed through lock No. 3 at Suburban Cheswick.

The boys, who are cousins, are

George Belgay, 14, of R. D. 2, Tarentum, and Guilford Sweeney, 14, of Arnold.

The youths stopped at 14-Mile Island, just below the lock, and played most of the afternoon, lock employees said.

Some Russian Caucasians believe that stealing is a religious obligation.

Seek Support Of Labor Unions In Staggered Hours

WTC In Pittsburgh Expects Unions To Request Cooperation Of All 1,700 Firms

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Feb. 8.—Pittsburgh's staggered work-hour program became effective for approximately 6,000 workers today while a spokesman for the war transportation committee said that formal support by the labor unions "is being expected."

"The support probably will be in the form of resolutions of request to the 1,700 downtown firms asked to participate in the program that they comply immediately," the WTC official said.

"There is no question," he added, "of the inconvenience being suffered by industrial workers because the program already is not fully effective."

Safe Stealers Are Stopped In Tracks

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 8.—Two youths who neglected to cover their trail after stealing a safe were lodged in the county jail today while the safe and its contents were returned to the rightful owner.

A patrol squad early yesterday discovered the theft of the safe, containing $2,593 in cash, a $25 war bond, four bottles of liquor, checks and valuable papers. However, tracks made by the safe's wheels showed in the snow and officers followed them until they came upon Peter Lynch, 18, and Dominic Petrucci, 18, attempting to smash it. The arrest followed.

Russia is having the warmest winter since 1924. Maybe the Germans prepared too well and it's the heat that weakens them this time.

United Nations"
Exhibit

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The four freedoms outlined by President Roosevelt in his historic "Atlantic Charter" meeting with British Prime Minister Churchill will be typified in sculpture.

Central theme of the "parade of United Nations" exhibit at Rockefeller Center, the symbolic art will be shown publicly for the first time next Friday, the office of war information disclosed.

The sculptures, by Hugo Robus of New York, are described as representing the four freedoms thus:

Speech: A Boia Constritor with a deadly hold on a book and microphone representing freedom of press and speech. A huge blade representing the sword of freedom pierces and kills the serpent, releasing the death grip on speech and press.

Want: Depicted by an allegorical figure of a wolf representing hunger and want. The sword ends this with the slaughter of the animal.

Worship: Two bound hands held up in prayer or supplication are released by the sword severing the bonds.

Fear: Represented in mythology by the dragon, which is slaughtered by the sword.

Daily Dozen

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

There are about 350,000 epileptics in the United States.

This number will be increased after the war.

Epileptics are not in the army, so will not be killed.

Five to 15 per cent of soldiers with brain injury become epileptic.

Epilepsy is also called "The Falling Sickness" and "Fits".

There are two general causes for convulsive seizures.

One is genetic, the other is acquired.

The genetic force prevails in about three-fourths of cases.

In one-fourth, one or more environmental factors prevail.

Treatment indicates the removal of acquired causes.

Also, a healthy body, confident mind and a part in the world's work.

Two-thirds of epileptics are mentally sound—and need a chance.

Officer Kills 27 Jap Soldiers In Solomon Islands

Idaho Man Gets Big Score Single-Handed In Battle On Tanabogo

By SGT. SAMUEL SHAFFER U. S. M. C.
(Distributed by International News Service)
SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, Jan. 26—(Delayed)—Second Lieutenant Samuel Corder, 27, of Idaho, had a premonition before going into battle on Tanabogo island that he was going to be killed. He tricked fate by emerging unscathed after killing 27 Japanese soldiers single-handed.

But three months later he was wounded by shrapnel in another engagement on Guadalcanal. The young lieutenant was among 60 men and officers who had been ordered to take Tanabogo, a tiny island. The Japs were believed to have only 60 men on the island. Actually, there were 350, most of them concealed in well-fortified caves. A week later, the marines, who had suffered only 25 casualties, buried 346 of the enemy and took two prisoners.

Take Hill Position
"When we hit the beach," Lieutenant Corder said, "it was every man for himself. In front of us was a pillbox at the base of a hill. We had to clean up that pillbox and take that hill to control the situation."

As we moved forward they were shooting us from in front and behind. I was flanked by two sergeants as I moved toward the hill. One of them remarked, 'You can't live forever, boy.' He was shot through the head five minutes later, dying instantly.

"In another minute the other sergeant was shot through the back. I put my Browning automatic rifle against my chest and started rolling on the ground until I fell into a shell-hole 10 yards away. I was joined there by another sergeant."

Leave Shell Hole
"At this point I made up my mind that I'd be killed in another five minutes anyway, so I ran up the hill and got behind the pillbox, swarming with Japs."

"The sergeant and I opened fire with our rifles. That's where I was credited with getting 27 of them. They fired at us with pistols and when their ammunition gave out, they threw rocks at us. Occasionally the Japs would rush out of their trenches with their knives and swords waving wildly and charge suicidally into marine bayonets."

Circus To Make Scheduled Tour

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 8—Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus will make its scheduled 1943 tour, Roland Butler, the circus' press representative, announced today.

(In Washington Civilian Transportation Director Joseph B. Eastman had announced that circuses will proceed with their 1943 plans at their own risk.)

Butler said Ringling Brothers' circus will open at New York early in April. Admission opening night will be by war bonds only.

Dies After Crash Of Training Plane

(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 8—Willard P. Bear, 23-year-old naval aviation cadet, died today at St. Louis hospital of injuries received yesterday when his training plane crashed in a field while on a routine flight.

Bear, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Bear of St. Louis, Pa., was a 1941 graduate of Lehigh university. Formerly a naval ordnance officer, he resigned his commission last fall to become a flying cadet.

Makes 10,000 Mile Trip

In his 21 days away from London, the British Prime Minister journeyed 10,000 miles by air to meet President Roosevelt, President Ismet Inonu of Turkey and Allied military leaders at both ends of the Mediterranean.

It was expected that Churchill would go before the House of Commons shortly to deliver a review of the general war situation and impart some information concerning the busy round of official conferences.

Immediately upon his return to the capital yesterday Churchill summoned members of the cabinet and his war chiefs to fill them in on the details of the meeting with President Inonu at Adana, near the Syrian border in Turkey.

Simultaneously with the premier's return to London it was announced from North Africa that Churchill had visited Allied headquarters after his triumphant visit to the captured Libyan port of Tripoli.

There he conferred with Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander of all Allied forces, and Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham, Allied naval chief.

He returned to England in the same Liberator bomber which has carried him on previous travels, including his historic visit to Moscow. After arriving at an English airport he went by train to Paddington Station and then motored to Downing Street.

Hold Shoe Exchange In Chicago School

Suburban Grade School Pioneers In Idea Of Swapping Outgrown Things

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 8—The pioneering suburb of Glenview inaugurated a shoe exchange today in the central elementary school, now that shoe rationing is in effect.

The principle of the thing is not at all new in Glenview, but this is the first time it has been extended to cover shoes. Two years ago Glenview solved the problem of children outgrowing their skates by establishing a skate exchange.

The exchange is operated by eighth grade pupils and a charge of five cents is made for a "handing change" for each exchange. Any kid wishing to get a larger pair of skates picks out his size from the stock on hand, pays a nickel and turns in his outgrown pair.

The plan worked out so satisfactorily that it was expanded to include rubbers and overshoes last September and now, with shoes harder to get, they will be included, too.

Paul Misner, superintendent of the Glenview schools, said that more than 2,000 pairs of skates had been handled since the exchange opened and that adults as well as children had taken advantage of the plan.

Dedicate Organ At Central Church

Central Christian church members dedicated their new organ during the morning service on Sunday with Roy Strobel of this city as guest organist.

As a part of the service, Mr. Strobel played several familiar selections and hymns. Other special music included a vocal solo by Dave Lewis, choir director at Central church, and selections by the choir.

The dedicatory sermon was preached by the pastor of the church, Rev. Sidney K. Bliss.

The Central Endeavor societies of Christian Endeavor church, had charge of last evening's service in observance of Christian Endeavor Week.

RUSSIANS WAGING OPENING PHASE OF ROSTOV BATTLE

Soviet force driving southwestward in the direction of Mariupol on the sea of Azov was seen in another Stockholm report. This stated that the red air force observed a long column of Germans retreating to the west. Apparently the dispatch said, this confirms German hints that Rostov will be evacuated as "no longer vital."

Report Steady Progress

The noon communique reported steady progress in major drives through the Ukraine to engulf the principal cities of Kharkov and Kursk and reported a further advance by column driving from the Donets area toward the sea west of Rostov.

It said that west of the captured rail junction of Kramatorskaya, 50 miles north of Stalino, offensive operations were being maintained.

West of Kupiansk, southeast of Kharkov, 200 Germans were reported killed. An inhabited locality and a large number of prisoners were captured on another sector.

"North of Kursk," said the communique, "our advance continued and several inhabited localities were liberated."

Some 400 Nazis were said to have been killed and much war material was seized.

Must Not Halt Any Lend-Lease Says Stimson

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—Secretary of War Henry Stimson today warned the House Foreign Affairs committee that the United States would "surrender one of our chief means of victory" over the Axis if America's $60,000,000 lend-lease program was abandoned.

Stimson, testifying on a bill to continue lend-lease for another year, declared also that failure to continue the lend-lease program would "seriously delay and jeopardize complete victory over Germany, Japan and Italy."

Stimson, insisting throughout his testimony that lend-lease was a "direct contribution to winning of the war," added:

"It is not very difficult to weigh the very serious consequences if it is stopped."

The secretary explained that American aid to the United Kingdom was so integrated with British war production that to withdraw it would result in a "critical impairment" of the British war effort.

He said, too, that abandonment of aid to Russia would also cripple the entire United Nations fight against the Axis. Despite difficulties in conveying, Stimson reported that American aid to the Soviet Union played a "real influence" that was most substantial and helpful in the Red Army's drive against Germany.

He explained that the Russian war machine had been "knocked about quite a bit" during the early German victories preceding present Nazi reverses.

The war secretary asserted that the U. S. was very aware of the importance of furnishing increased aid to China to combat "our great Pacific enemy—Japan." While the supply routes to China are difficult, Stimson stated, "It would be most foolish not to maintain and increase the aid to China."

SHOE RATIONING PLAN NOW IN EFFECT IN U. S.

among members of the family. Parents may use their stamps to provide extra shoes for the children, the wife may use the husband's stamps and vice-versa.

Persons who do not possess war ration book one may apply to local rationing boards for a copy. If a person needs shoes and has no stamp 17 in his immediate family, he may apply to the local board for a "shoe rationing certificate."

All types of shoes and boots made in whole or in part from leather or with rubber soles are rationed.

Some Unrationed
Unrationed are soft and hard-soled house slippers and boudoir slippers, infants soft-soled shoes, ballet slippers, ordinary waterproof rubber footwear, including arctic; gaiters; work, dress, clog and toe rubbers and lumbermen's overs.

One unusual feature of the new program is a provision for the exchange or return of shoes. If new shoes are returned, the store must give back to the customer stamp 17 and a receipt which the customer must surrender when he buys again.

Additional safeguards are planned for the nation's available supply of leather, more than one-third of which already is being taken for military and lend-lease purposes. In the last six months of 1942, one out of every 10 pairs produced went to the fighting men.

The WPB soon will issue an order reducing the number of colors from six to four—black, white, brown and army russet. Gold and silver and all two-tone shoes will be prohibited.

Heel heights in women's shoes will be shortened to a maximum of two and five-eighths inches. Leather boots will be limited to 10 inches in height. Leather platforms on women's shoes will be cut down.

Production of many sport shoes, men's patent leather shoes, women's formal evening slippers, men's sandals and metal spike golf shoes will be discontinued. Straps, fancy tongues, non-functional trimmings, extra stitching and leather bows will be banned.

Officials estimated that the forthcoming regulation would make possible the manufacture of 15,000,000 additional pairs of essential shoes, chiefly work shoes and sturdy street shoes, and save between 75,000 and 100,000 man-hours of labor daily.

In addition, manufacturers will be asked in the near future to develop "war model" or utility types of shoes of standard quality and pleasing design as a reasonable price.

A regulation also will be issued preventing manufacturers from increasing the output of higher-priced shoes at the expense of their low or medium-priced lines.

On Jan. 1, Byrnes said, civilian shoe inventories were estimated at from five to six months' supply. By rationing now, a generous ration is possible, he explained. At the beginning it will be at the rate of three pairs a year for each individual.

Special shoes purchase certificates will be issued where shoes have been in a flood, fire or by theft; for mail carriers and policemen, whose jobs are hard on shoes, and for expectant mothers who need maternity shoes.

Some of the ants in New York's Bronx zoo are fed on rose petals.

King John of Bohemia, as an ally of Phillip of France, was at the Battle of Crecy, Aug. 26, 1346 at which the French Army suffered overwhelming defeat at the hands of the English. Although completely blind, King John insisted upon being in the thick of the battle where he died fighting his unseen foes.

Of course Roosevelt will run again. No other New Dealer could win, and a Democrat couldn't be nominated.

Son Of Former Local Druggist Killed In Crash

Youngest Of Three Sons Of Late C. E. Thompsons, Serving U. S. Forces, In Plane Crash

Word has been received here, telling of the death of Fred P. Thompson of Jamestown, Pa., born and raised here in New Castle, Pa., who was killed in action with the U. S. Armed Forces.

The deceased was son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thompson who will be remembered by many here, having made their home in New Castle, where he was in business as a druggist.

A member of the Y.U.M.A. Flying school, the late Fred P. Thompson was a victim of a plane crash, while making a routine trip. Military honors will be accorded him, with burial being made in Arlington National cemetery, Washington, D. C., on Tuesday. It is intimated that following the war the body will be taken to Jamestown, Pa., and laid to rest with his parents, who are buried there.

Two other brothers are also serving in the U. S. Armed Forces, Clyde who is at British Guinea, and Austin of the submarine service now somewhere in the Pacific.

The boys are nephews of the E. D. Thompsons of New Wilmington road R. D. 5, this city, and have a host of friends and relatives in this city.

Catholic Center Dedication Held

Interesting Program Features Opening Of Center At North And Beaver Streets

Dedication of the Catholic Center at North and Beaver streets took place recently with quite a large crowd attending, and with members of the St. Mary's school, and scout troops taking part.

The program opened with a fast basketball game between St. Mary's and SS. Philip and James' school. St. Mary's finally capturing the winning score, 21-12.

St. Mary's grade school sang the new victory song, and this was followed by three selections by the St. Mary's school orchestra, who played splendidly, "Marian's Hymn," "Furrough" and "Little Annie Rooney."

An impressive ceremony of the blessing of the American flag was scheduled next on the program, with the Girl Scout troop and Boy Scout troops of St. Mary's school conducting. Football letters were presented to the St. Mary's 1942 football team, who were champions of the city Catholic league, capturing the championship. Rev. Fr. Francis M. McCarter was in charge of the presentation.

The St. Mary's Glee club opened this portion of the program by singing, Brahms' "Lullaby" and continued with "Dear Land of Home," and "Going Home."

Rev. Fr. Francis McCarter gave an interesting message on, "Catholic Action in the Schools." His talk was well received.

The Alma Mater was sung, and the program came to a close with another fast basketball game, between St. Mary's and the Polish Falcons. St. Mary's again won, 19-12.

Mike Donovan, Sheridan avenue, will have charge of scheduling games at the center. Games for grade and high schools and other teams will be played. Boxing will be another sport featured in the near future.

Nursing Staff In New Guinea Grows

Lieut. Gray Heads Group At Jungle Outpost; Nurses Are Proud Of Soldier Patients

By PAT ROBINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Feb. 8—The first American woman to set foot in New Guinea during this war is Lieut. Helen Gray of Washington, D. C., who led a small band of nurses to this jungle outpost several months ago.

Today this New York University graduate—five feet two inches of pulchritude, charm and efficiency—supervises the activities of a considerable number of nurses as they minister to the sick and wounded in hospital tents spread all over a mountain side.

Soldiers here insist that this little bundle of energy can get things done quicker than many colonels—but, of course, the colonels haven't Helen's snappy brown eyes and winning smile.

Helen's twin sister is doing a similar job in Iceland.

All of us here are proud of our nurses—mothers of American boys can be assured their sons could not get better treatment at home—but we are not half as proud of them as the nurses are of their patients.

"These boys are magnificent," said Helen. "Their silent, uncomplaining courage is sublime. I've never yet heard one complaint about anything, no matter how seriously a man was wounded."

Dr. W. T. S. Thorpe of State College gave a report on experimental work, which he was conducting at the college on the control of sheep parasites. Harold R. McCulloch, county agent of Lawrence county, W. B. Connell of State College discussed sheep management practices to increase produce of meat and wool.

Mr. Connell, livestock specialist, acted as judge for the wool show premiums for which were furnished by the First National Bank of Lawrence county.

Awards were as follows: Merino Ram Fleece—1st, Earl Wimmer, Slippery Rock; 2nd, J. G. Russell, New Galilee, Pa.

Merino Ewe Fleece—1st, D. F. Kyle, R. F. D. No. 7; 2nd, Earl Wimmer, Slippery Rock; 3rd, D. F. Kyle, 4th, Earl Wimmer.

Half Blood Fleece—1st, J. G. Russell, 2nd, Ralph Maxwell, 3rd, Ralph Maxwell.

Three-eighths Blood Fleece—1st, Guy Fullerton, Enon Valley; 2nd, Dale McCracken; 3rd, Guy Fullerton, 4th, Ralph Maxwell.

One-quarter Blood Fleece—1st, Guy Fullerton; 2nd, Guy Fullerton; 3rd, Ralph Maxwell.

Medium Ram Fleece—1st, Guy Fullerton; 2nd, Guy Fullerton; 3rd, Ralph Maxwell.

Champion Fine Wool Fleece—Earl Wimmer.

Hanna Explains Why Soldier's Mail Is Delayed

Mail Is In Hands Of Military Authorities After Leaving United States

Postmaster William P. Hanna today explained why mail to men in the various branches of the service overseas is delayed in reaching them, or fails to reach them entirely. A number of such complaints have been received during recent months as the number of men overseas has increased.

There is a wide misunderstanding of how this mail is handled and of the difficulties encountered in its delivery. Complaints, incidentally, are fewer during this war than they were back in 1917, notwithstanding the fact that volume is much larger.

Mail for the armed forces is delivered by the Postal Service to the Army and Navy authorities convenient to camps or stations in this country, or to ports of embarkation when addressed overseas. The Postal Service then has no further jurisdiction over the mail, Hanna explains, responsibility for its delivery from that point lies with the Army and Navy. In the same manner, mail coming from overseas is handled by the Army and Navy until it reaches a port of entry.

Army and Navy Postal Service is technically a branch of the civilian postal service, but is not under the jurisdiction of the same, being maintained and operated by the War and Navy Departments and manned by military and naval personnel.

For instance, he explained, APO 1234, in care of the postmaster, New York, would be a branch of the New York post office, although it might be in Africa, and mail would bear that return address, although it came from abroad.

Mail is sometimes held back so that more urgent supplies may be shipped abroad, such as arms, food, or military and army personnel. At times, overburdened facilities cannot accommodate all the mail and it must be held until shipping space is available.

Ships travel in convoys these days, and no ship can start until the last ship is loaded. They then travel only as fast as the slowest ship in the convoy. Transfers of men from one part of the country to the other also cause delay.

Ship sinkings cause the loss of much mail, as mail is placed aboard any ship that has available space. The post office has nothing to do with the censorship. It is entirely in the hands of the military and naval authorities.

Mail coming from men overseas travels faster than mail going to them, as the returning vessels are lighter loaded and more space is available. There is also less mail coming from overseas and often it travels by plane. The addresses of those receiving the mail is also more stable.

V-mail is given priority over ordinary mail as it occupies much less space and is sent by plane wherever possible.

Mr. Hanna stated that the post office department does not furnish addresses of men overseas. When necessary to obtain such an address, inquiry should be made of the Adjutant General, War Department, if the man is in the army; Bureau of Navy Personnel, Navy Department, if in the navy; or in the military or Marine Corps Headquarters, Navy Department building, Washington, D. C.

Kindergarten Need
Will Be Discussed
Tonight At Y.W.C.A.

An open meeting for the discussion of the value of kindergartens in the New Castle Public Schools and the need to re-establish them will be held tonight at 7:45 in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium.

Dr. Emma Heard of Slippery Rock Teachers college will speak on "The Importance of Kindergarten," and a motion picture, "A Day in Kindergarten," will be shown.

Local Man Gets Fine Assignment In Marine Corps

Sergt. William K. Martin In Charge Of Public Relations
In Pittsburgh Area

SERGEANT WILLIAM K. MARTIN

Sergeant William K. Martin has been assigned to active duty in charge of Public Relations in the Pittsburgh territory. It was announced today by Headquarters, Eastern Recruiting Division, United States Marine Corps, Philadelphia.

Sergeant Martin is a native of Pennsylvania and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey E. Martin, New Castle, where his father is an attorney.

An ardent sportsman, Sergeant Martin graduated from New Castle High School, where he played football and was a member of the track team. He attended Carnegie Tech where he played on the Freshman Football team.

During his training at Parris Island, Sergeant Martin qualified with the rifle, sub-machine gun and hand grenade, and attained an expert's rating with the pistol and bayonet.

Before enlisting in the Marine Corps, Sergeant Martin was a public relations consultant. And as such, is well known throughout the Pittsburgh section.

Sergeant Martin and his wife, Ruth Ramsey Martin, will establish a residence in Pittsburgh. He will relieve Staff Sergeant Peter Pavone who has been assigned as a Combat Correspondent.

OCD NOTES

Activities Of OCD Workers Are Outlined Here

Daytime class held in City Hall each Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock has not had the attendance that was expected. The common excuse from most people is that they have no time. Ray Matthews, who so kindly offered to teach the class works seven days a week from 3:00 to 11:00 p. m. in a defense plant in Ellwood City. He completed courses to instruct air raid wardens, fire-watchers and messengers and can also teach the class right straight through in first aid. He is registered for the black-out driving course. Both men and women are needed and are eligible for this class. The OCD office will be glad to have you call and register for this class. If you work different shifts, you may attend the night classes and the day class until you have completed the course.

Regarding the new signals, a bulletin has been received officially stating that a new code of signals for air raid drills and alerts are being made up. Also, advise that the OCD has copies of this bulletin just as soon as the state council of defense can get them ready for distribution.

City OCD is checking with the heads of the various schools, and looking over air raid drills conducted by the pupils.

There is still need of more workers in the many branches of the civilian defense, of which you can become a member of in your own neighborhood. We need your help. See your senior warden in your precinct or contact City OCD office 6386, or visit office in City building.

A shelf of fiction to furnish reading material to the groups of telephonists has been placed in the OCD center through the courtesy of the public library.

"Production, Production -and More Production!"

GENERAL MOTORS REPORTS ON ITS FIRST
FULL YEAR OF WAR ACTIVITIES

FIRST, AN APPRECIATION . . .

While the figures and statistics shown below are impressive, they do not tell the full story. They do not show, for example, the cooperation we have had from Army and Navy officials at every step of our progress toward the record production already achieved. Nor do they indicate the fine spirit of cooperation shown by our suppliers and subcontractors, on whom we rely for so much of the work.

They cannot convey an adequate picture of the eagerness of hundreds of thousands of General Motors men and women to back the courage and determination of our fighting men with an ample supply of the most effective fighting weapons in the world. They cannot give even a hint of the initiative displayed by our engineers and mass-production technicians in effecting manufacturing economies and efficiencies which have resulted in the saving of critical war materials and manpower, and which have already made possible price reductions amounting to hundreds of millions of dollars.

These are the practical results that come from encouraging individual effort and initiative—the American way of getting the job done. Machines alone cannot win the victory—it will be won by free men working and fighting together for the only kind of future worthy of America.

Thus General Motors answers our government's call for "Production, production—and more production!"

1940 and 1941 were years of defense production and of planning for the possibility of war. Pearl Harbor found this defense production well under way. With the declaration of war and the call for "all-out" war effort, General Motors concentrated its entire organization and all its facilities on war production.

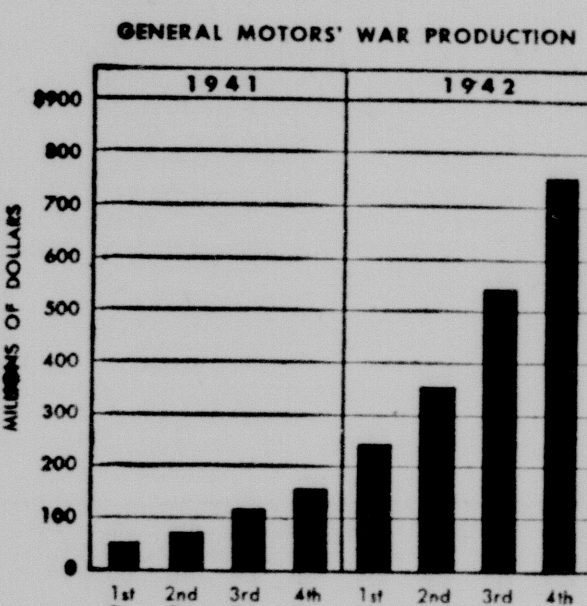

The tremendous job ahead at the threshold of 1942 called for the "know-how" of all our engineers, designers, mechanics and managers, skilled and experienced in mass production. It required the retooling and rearranging of all our plants for maximum production of war products. It meant designing and building new machines, and tools to make them—training skilled hands to perform new tasks, and teaching the unskilled—building employment and payrolls to unprecedented peaks—organizing and enlisting the support of our network of thousands of suppliers and subcontractors. It also meant establishing and operating training schools to teach thousands of men in the armed forces how to properly service and maintain General Motors-built war equipment.

Now at the beginning of 1943 these basic tasks have all been accomplished, and during their accomplishment General Motors plants made and delivered a mighty, rising tide of war materials. That tide continues to rise with mass-production technique swinging into full stride.

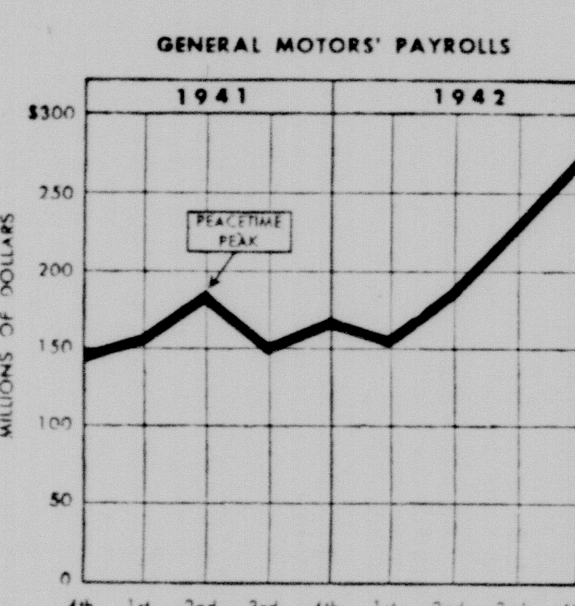

Thus General Motors answers our government's call for "Production, production—and more production!"

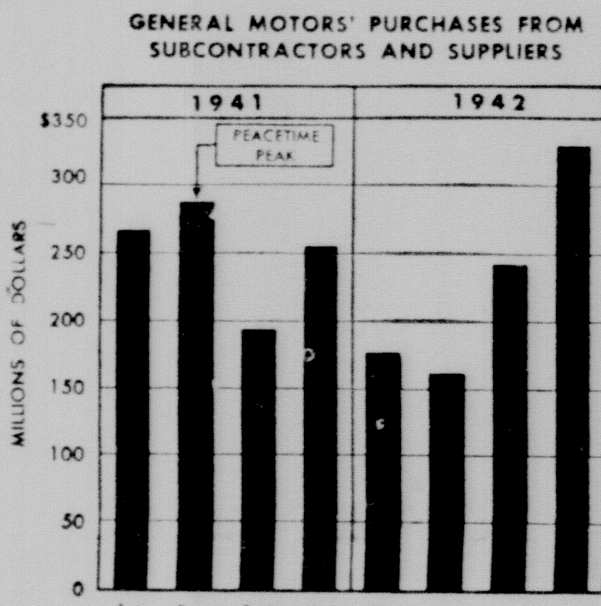

We regret that for military reasons we cannot report the number of guns, tanks, planes, shells, armored cars, trucks, Diesel engines for submarines and other uses, airplane instruments and hundreds of other items made and delivered by General Motors. We can say that in dollar value they totaled approximately $1,900,000,000—almost two billion dollars—in the year 1942 alone.

In June 1941, factory employment was 250,000—its all-time high. Since then 50,000 replacements have been made, largely to replace men who have gone into the armed services, and 40,000 additional employees have been hired. To the 34,000 salaried workers employed in June 1941, 17,000 have been added. At the end of 1942 General Motors' employment reached 370,000—46,000 above the previous peak. It is anticipated that 100,000 will be added

General Motors' payrolls, like General Motors' employment figures, are at an all-time high in our 105 plants in 46 communities and 13 states—and six plants in Canada. The December 1942 payroll was $88,000,000. This was 45% more than the peak time peak in June 1941. The total General Motors payroll for 1942 was $859,000,000—24% more than in 1941—the highest previous year.

The fastest, most effective way to distribute war work among the greatest number of producers is primarily through larger industrial organizations who have technical staffs available and who are accustomed to working with suppliers and subcontractors. Purchases from subcontractors and suppliers in the fourth quarter of 1942 were $330,000,000 compared with the previous peak of $288,000,000 in the second quarter of 1941.

For some weeks Deputy County Controller Andrew W. Dods, custodian of supplies for the Council of Defense, has had 103,000 point ration books locked up in a vault in the basement. On Saturday morning Robert A. Eckles, executive secretary of the War Price and Ration Board, had one of the cartons opened for the purpose of inspecting the books.

The books are fairly large in size and contain two sets of stamps, one set blue, the other red. The blue set is for the rationing of canned vegetables, fruits and fruit juices. The red set will be used for the rationing of meats later.

Midwestern Farm Youths Complete Course In Scientific Farming

(International News Service)
MADISON, Wis., Feb. 8.—Fifty-two members of Uncle Sam's newest army—an army in denim—went into the battle of food production Saturday.

Recruited from low-production farms throughout the great middle west, the new "soldiers" are 16 and 17-year-old youths who have completed a six-week scientific farming course at the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture.

Special exercises were held Saturday to mark the graduation of the group, the first to complete the recently-established program. The students went to class eight hours a day, six days a week to learn the fundamentals of farming.

With the graduation of the initial class, 165 more boys were ready to take up a similar course, with a class of 300 scheduled to start on March 15.

The course has included instruction in crops, machinery, dairy cattle management, most animals, rural citizenship and democracy and was given under the sponsorship of the federal employment service and the Farm Security Administration.

FAIR OR FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Jimmy Conzelman gave the piano a final hot lick and turned to join in the conversation, inasmuch as none of the newspaper men seemed to be listening to his concerto in two thumbs.

"What I want to know is whether we will have another sports boom after this war and if so what will it be like," he said as he butted in the bubble of arguing and discussion and presently received the attention his piano-playing had failed to attract. "I've been thinking lately about that other post-war period, the 120's, and I'm wondering," he said as he brushed back the long gray hair which seems always to be falling this way and that.

A Great Era

The coach of the Chicago football Cardinals and touched off something dear to the hearts of all who could remember that last post-war boom, when Bobby Jones, Sarazen and Hagen, Tilden, Tex Rickard, Helen Wills, Babe Ruth, Dempsey, Sande and Rockne, Warner and Red Grange and Nurni and still others re-wrote the record books.

"There won't be any such bunch of standouts like that again," somebody said.

"Maybe not," Conzelman went on "but who can tell me what things will be like when this one is over and everybody begins to cut loose after the tension of war has been removed. I figure one thing as almost certain people are going to demand rugged sports. They won't be interested in the soft stuff. They will be tougher mentally after this widespread involvement in war."

Everybody agreed that people who had seen and lived through the horrors of war and others who had been touched by it one way or another couldn't be the same for awhile.

Yet, some one said, there doesn't seem to be much likelihood of sports undergoing striking changes. Ruth and a few others brought slugging to baseball; Rockne with his revised staff and Warner with his wingback formations revolutionized football and there were other similar innovations in other sports as part of that other boom. There haven't been many innovations since. Outstanding has been the man-in-motion T-formation.

Anything Is Possible

Observing that, another fellow said that he must agree with the suggestion that there didn't seem to be much if any room for further improvement in sports or of any innovations. But nobody was very certain about that for in sports anything is possible.

There is a big difference in the times and in the way we live and think," Conzelman said. "The era before the last World War was sort of a hangover from the Victorian era. It was the age of obedience and respect and chaperonage. The radio hadn't yet carried sports right to the fireside and the curbstone and the outlying general store. Automobiles were a luxury for a few airplaners a frightening novelty. People didn't move around as much and they didn't know as much about what was going on.

"With the last war people from hamlets everywhere were thrown about the world and they came back with a new independence through which they already had lived. They rode that one full tilt through the lawless days of prohibition and free spending, during a time when by some coincidence the athletes as a group attained a new greatness and the crowds swelled beyond most fanciful imagination.

"That was what has been termed the Golden Age. There was a change from simple things to the lavish in sports, in business and in everything.

"What I'm asking is will there be another boom and what will it be like?" Conzelman concluded with a quick swing of his big, shaggy head around the room.

Some one agreed that this war will not follow a sort of age of innocence as the last one did and observed that this one will leave its mark on more people, our people who are the greatest lovers of sports in the world. That didn't answer anything.

Conzelman turned around and started to play softly again and now we have a brand new subject for arguments around here.

NEW OACH

HANOVER, N. H.—Fred Worthen, '43, who was elected captain of this year's Dartmouth swimming team and graduated before he could fill the job will be coach instead.

The freestyle star of the past two seasons has been named to take over the duties of Coach Karl Michael, who left to go into the Navy. Worthen completed his college course last month under the speeded war program.

Red Dutton, now working for the Canadian government, plans to re-establish the ice hockey Americans in Brooklyn when the war ends.

Boston Bruins

Up Hockey Lead

Pay Tribute To Calder; First Fight Features Clash In Chicago

(International News Service)
The Boston Bruins retained their comfortable four point lead in the National Hockey league standings today after chalking up a 7 to 1 victory over the Montreal Canadiens.

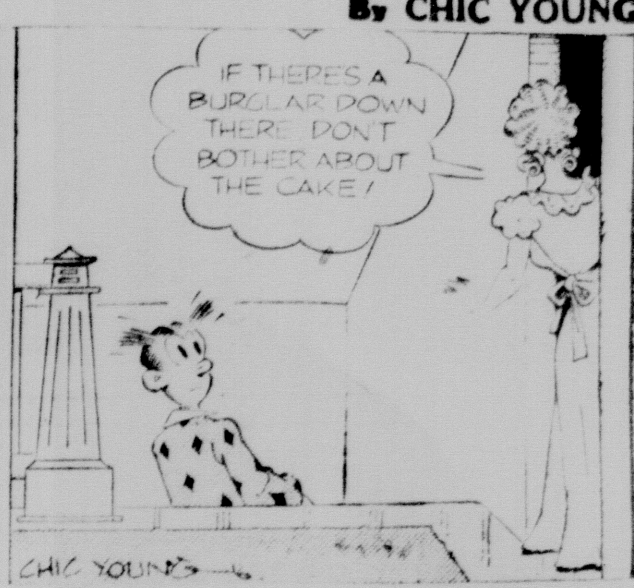

The second place Detroit Red Wings also won, beating the Toronto Maple Leafs 5 to 3.
Before the Boston game started, 10,000 fans bowed their heads for one minute in tribute to Frank Calder, National Hockey league president who died last week.
Detroit performed before a capacity crowd of 13,649 and slammed home three goals in less than eight minutes in the second period. Toronto has yet to win a game from the Red Wings in Detroit this year.
In Chicago, the Black Hawks set the last place New York Rangers down 8 to 4. The game was featured by a first period fist fight between "Red" Hamill of the Hawks and Gus Mancuso of the Rangers. Mancuso suffered a scalp wound in the fray but returned to the game after serving a penalty.

ALTOONA LOSES

PRIZE ATHLETES

(International News Service)
ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 8.—Altoona High School Boys' Federation was without officers after three students enlisted in the army and another joined the coast guard.
Dick Clark, president and outstanding baseball player, leaves next Saturday. Dear Wilson, vice president and quarterback of the football team named the school's most valuable player, left Thursday. Bob Kelly, secretary and football halfback, leaves February 15, and Bob Weigand, historian and stellar football lineman, leaves February 11 for a coast guard station.
Clark, Wilson and Weigand will receive school diplomas.
